ANNUAL MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION (MSHA)

For Surface Operations, Contractors and Truckers MSHA Mine Safety Refresher Courses

Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) training is designed for vendors, suppliers and contractors who employ truck drivers at mine sites engaged in shell dredging or employed in sand, gravel, surface stone or clay and surface limestone operations.

The safety training will consist of a combination of approaches including PowerPoint presentations, short video clips and interactive discussions. Each training topic will involve discussion and a question/answer session. The duration of each session will vary depending on the topic, the participation and the trainees understanding of the material.

This training provides eight (8) hours of safety training to employees and training certificates to each participant. Training topics will include the following:

- 2015 Fatalities, Injuries, Inspections and Citations
- Loader Safety
- Truck Safety
- Lock Out Tag Out
- Hazard Communication
- First Aid Refresher
- Ladder Safety
- Safe Lifting
- Tire Safety
- Other Topics to Be Determined

Presenter: Mr. David Schwoerer has over 28 years of experience as a safety specialist, which includes management and employee training, safety inspections, hazard analysis, OSHA compliance, workers' compensation management, and development of ergonomic and safety programs. David holds a Master's of Science degree in Safety from the University of Wisconsin, Whitewater. He is also a member of the Wisconsin Safety Council where he serves as Chairperson of the Professional Training and Development committee.
