

2018-19 DEPENDENCY OVERRIDE REQUEST

Dependency overrides are intended for students who can prove and fully document exceptional circumstances. We cannot approve requests for students whose sole reason for the request is because their parents are unwilling to provide parental information or for students who have chosen to live on their own.

The Department of Education determines a student's status as dependent or independent by the answers the student provides on the seven questions listed in Step Three of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students are classified as dependent or independent because federal student aid programs are based on the principle that students (and their parent or spouse, if applicable) are considered the primary source of support for postsecondary education.

Please Note: The Financial Aid Administrator's decision is final and cannot be appealed to the U.S. Department of Education.

Examples of unusual circumstances include:

- A student's voluntary or involuntary removal from their parents' home due to an extreme situation that threatened the student's health and/or safety and, due to these conditions, parent support was terminated.
- Incapacity of parent(s) such as incarceration, mental or physical illness or the inability of the applicant to locate the parent(s).
- Other extenuating circumstances that can be sufficiently documented.

In recent years, the U.S. Department of Education has identified four conditions that, individually or in combination with one another, do not qualify as "unusual circumstances" or that do not merit a dependency override. Those circumstances are:

- Parents' unwillingness or inability to contribute to the student's education.
- Parents' unwillingness to provide information on the application or for verification.
- Parents not claiming the student as a dependent for income tax purposes.
- Student can demonstrate total self-sufficiency.

Please note:

- If your appeal is complete or submitted without the necessary documentation, processing of your appeal will be delayed until the additional information is obtained.
- Submission of an appeal does not guarantee your request will be approved.
- If approved, the dependency override is valid for only one academic year. Approval in one year does not guarantee approval in following years. Your status must be reassessed each academic year.
- You will be notified in writing of the outcome of your dependency override request. Please allow approximately four weeks from the date we receive your completed form and all supporting documentation before contacting our office regarding the status of your request.
