Introduction

The purpose of this handbook is to provide information for students regarding community impact programs at Moraine Park Technical College.

Strategic Priorities

Strengthening community connections is a strategic priority at MPTC. Connecting the college and community for the goals of fostering collaboration and connectivity among business partners, alumni and community agencies, and increasing the visibility of the college impact to the communities we serve, fulfills community needs and helps give our students a richer academic experience to improve student success.

Service Learning

Moraine Park Technical College is committed to community engagement and student success. The College supports these commitments through the opportunity for students to participate in service learning and apply their classroom knowledge to an applicable, real world environment. Service Learning is defined as a method of teaching characterized by student participation in an organized service project that meets an identified community need and is connected to course content/ specific learning outcomes with structured reflection relating to the service activity.

Service Learning is purposefully integrated into academic courses to include course learning outcomes that meet the service learning goals of:

- To identify the human, interpersonal, and factual dimensions of a community need
- To demonstrate awareness of diversity, global perspective, and social responsibility

*Please note, several MPTC healthcare programs require “clinical hours” for experiential learning by accreditation standards. Clinical hours are not applicable to service learning. Unpaid internships or practicum hours may be applicable. Please contact Anne Lemke, Student Community Impact Coordinator with questions.

Student Volunteers

Moraine Park Technical College is committed to community engagement and student success. We encourage our students and staff to share your time and talent, connecting and volunteering to help and improve the communities where we live, work and go to school.

- 6 hours in the third semester and
- 8 hours in the fourth semester.

If a Promise student is already participating in an MPTC course or co-curricular Club activity that includes service learning or volunteering, those hours may be tracked and submitted towards the Promise requirement. ### What does MPTC expect of me?

MPTC is expecting you to be responsible, act professionally, and complete your service learning or volunteering projects as well as any corresponding work that goes along with it, following the MPTC Student Conduct Code (see Student Handbook). You are expected to be on time, notify your community partner ahead if you are going to be late or absent, and to behave appropriately for the location and clientele with whom you are working. Your Instructor or Club advisor might also have specific things they are requiring, so make sure you speak with them for any questions. MPTC also wants to make sure each student understands the seriousness of the project, event, or experience that you are going to be working with. Our community partners rely on students to fulfill some of their needs. If for any reason, you are unable to finish the project, not only might it affect a course grade, but the community partner could be directly affected as well. Community Impact at MPTC incorporates the seven core abilities essential to success in a community or work related setting:

The seven core abilities are:

- Communicate clearly
- Act responsibly
- Work productively
- Think critically and creatively
- Adapt to change
- Demonstrate integrity
- Work cooperatively

*Each student participating in MPTC Community Impact must complete the Statement of Risks and Waiver Form. Student Accident Insurance may also apply. Please complete form on page 7, scan or print and return to:

What should I expect from MPTC?

You should expect to receive support throughout the projects, help with reflections to connect what you are doing to what you are learning in classes, and assistance should you run into any problems. Our job is to help guide you so you are able to complete the projects and acquire the learning that comes from the community impact experiences.

What does the community organization expect of me?

The community organization is also expecting you to be responsible and professional; to call ahead if you will be late or absent, to act and dress appropriately, and to complete your project to the best of your ability. Students will be making your own schedule with the community organization. Make sure to check into the community organization's hours when setting up your project. Please speak with them if you have any questions or concerns.

What should I expect from my community partner organization?

Your community partner should make sure you have any necessary training for the project, information about the clientele and organization, and an understanding of the specific needs you are addressing. They might help you with reflections as well. You should expect them to be there for guidance but in some cases you may be on your own.

*Please note some community organizations may also require you to complete a criminal background check and/or medical requirements in order to work with their clientele. Any costs associated with these requirements are the responsibility of the community organization and/or the student volunteer.

Who is the Student Community Impact Coordinator?

The Student Community Impact Coordinator works with all MPTC students, Promise students, instructors, and community organizations to identify opportunities for partnerships and track student hours for community impact awards.

Community Impact Awards

MPTC has a wonderful recognition program designed to acknowledge students who are committed to serving their community. Students who complete and log 25 to 200 hours of service learning and/or volunteerism during their time at MPTC are eligible to receive these awards.

- Bronze for 25 hours
- Silver for 50 hours
- Gold for 100 hours
- President's Award for 200 hours or more

Award hours are tracked from May 1 – November 1 for each fall semester and November 1 – April 30 for each spring semester. Hours tracked for awards are cumulative throughout a student's time at MPTC. For example, a student may first earn a bronze or silver award and move onto a cumulative gold or presidential award.

Additionally, there is the possibility to be featured on the MPTC blog and in the Annual Report: Fall 2019 Award Winners and Spring 2020 Award Winners. Students may also be nominated for Campus Compact state or national awards: 2020-21 Award Winner.
